Mr. James C. Frey
Assistant Director for Legislative Reference
Office of Management and Budget
Washington, D.C. 20503

Dear Mr. Frey:

This is in response to your request for Agency suggestions to reduce statutory impediments to regulatory relief and paperwork reduction. At this time, the Central Intelligence Agency has no specific proposals concerning statutory amendments to reduce unnecessary regulation and paperwork. Should we become aware of any such statutory impediment, we will promptly inform your office.

Sincerely,

Deputy Director, Office of Legislative Liaison

LEGISLATIVE REFERRAL MEMORANDUM

TO: LEGISLATIVE LIAISON OFFICER

SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Request for agency proposals to be included in a draft bill to reduce statutory impediments to regulatory relief and paperwork reduction

To assist in the preparation of an omnibus bill reducing statutory impediments to regulatory relief and paperwork reduction, the Office of Management and Budget requests that your agency provide a list of specific proposals in this area. Particular emphasis should be given to areas where statutory requirements are obsolete or ineffective. The bill is planned to be transmitted to Congress in late January. Agency submissions in response to this memorandum should be made by January 10, 1984.

The contemplated bill will propose specific changes to statutes which would either provide regulatory or paperwork relief directly, or would enable reform to be made through administrative action by agencies. Each agency proposal should include:

- . Identification of the affected statute;
- . Specific statutory language to affect the change or repeal of the existing statute; and
- . A short statement describing the need for the statutory change including any savings to the Federal government and any savings to the regulated public in terms of dollars and/or paperwork burden hours.

This information should be presented using the attached format.

Direct your questions or comments to Joseph Lackey (395-6880) of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Room 3208, New Executive Office Building.
